

GARY WILBERS

ABOUT GARY

The first business Gary built, Mid-America Wireless, started as a small two-man company and culminated with ten regional storefronts and over one hundred fifty employees. He developed a culture of learning and sharing knowledge within his organizations.

Gary created a framework, The High Achiever Mindset, using his success as the foundation. He now shares his message as a keynote speaker, trainer, and coach in order to help others reach their goals, dreams, and ambitions.

Gary is also involved in his community and gives his time and resources to several organizations. His passion is working with Special Olympics Missouri. He currently serves on the statewide board and is the Capital Campaign Chair for the Training for Life Campus fund drive with the purpose of building a state of the art facility for Missouri athletes. One of his greatest joys is playing unified golf with Keith Lueckenhoff, a SOMO athlete.

Gary and his wife Dana have three children, Chris, Adam and Elle, and reside in Wardsville, MO.

SUGGESTED INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

You share with audiences how they can have a High Achiever Mindset. How do you believe our mindset affects our daily life?

Your mantra in life is: CHARGE (Create Habits Around Real Goals Everyday). How did you come about this?

You have four practices you believe can make a difference if practiced daily. What are they? Why are they important?

Your recent book is a business fable called: "Positive Culture Wins in business and life". Share with us what it is about?

Why is culture so important in organizations today?

Your book, "21 Ways to Attract, Retain and Engage Millennials". Why is this a must in today's business climate?

What can employers do to create greater success in hiring and attracting new people into their organization?

You always share in your email or voicemail this message: "Make it a GREAT day!" Why?

Why do you think people are searching to find purpose in life?

You have a free program called "7 Days of CHARGE". Explain how our audience can receive it and what will they get from it?
